June 14, 10:13 pm – New Moon

Some say that a no magick should be performed during a new moon and others say that only binding and banishing should be done during the new moon. Each person should decide for themselves, but the new moon is the beginning of the waxing moon cycle and this is a time to draw things to you. From the full moon to the new moon, the moon is said to be waning and that is a time for eliminating or pushing things away from you. So, if you want something to manifest, a good strategy would be to begin during (or shortly after) the new moon and concentrate on that manifestation during the entire waxing phase.

The following is a simple new moon manifestation ritual:

You will need two notebooks, incense and candles.

1. Cleanse your sacred area with an opening prayer, a sage smudging, and/or by burning some incense.
2. Light one or more candles.
3. Center your being and calm yourself in whatever way is appropriate for you. You might enjoy sipping on a cup of chamomile or mint tea.
4. Open your notebook, and date it. Write down these words or similar words. "I accept these things into my life now or something better for my highest good and for the highest good of all concerned." Below this statement, begin writing down your desires. Your list may consist of only one item or you may have several pages written down. Try not to limit yourself. If having many things in your life helps to fulfill you, then don't deny yourself wanting these things.
5. During the month when an item on your new moon list comes to you, don't merely cross it off of your list, take the time to rewrite the list in its entirety eliminating the manifested item from the listing. This is highly recommended. At the same time you may add whatever else that you have decided you would like. Feel free to reword any of the original phrases if they better fit your life now. It is only natural that your desires change over days/weeks/ months/years.
6. A second notebook will be used as a manifestation scrapbook where you paste in pictures or catalog clippings of items that you want to manifest. This is a fun project so enjoy yourself. You will soon be amazed how these things begin to find their way into your life once you start this practice.

Rededicating your New Moon Intentions

Each month at the new moon, you rededicate your intentions by renewing the list at a repeated ritual. This is accomplished by rewriting them out, removing the items that no longer feed your soul and adding those that do. I like to salt and pepper my manifest list with smaller items that will manifest quickly, such as tickets to the ballet, or lunch with a friend, or a day of all play and no work. You may think that these are such small things that they don't apply or are not worth writing down. Wrong! Believing that these are things that we can easily acquire so it's not really manifesting upsets the balance. Manifesting smaller items on our lists actually gives life to the list. These smaller manifestations create movement....an ebb and flow of the tides. We are dealing here with the moon cycles after all. Besides, sometimes we forget to enjoy the smaller pleasures in our lives while we are waiting for the BIG stuff to come in. If you only write statements like, "I want to win the lottery" in your notebook then you are limiting yourself by not allowing abundance to flow to you from other avenues.

June 15, 6:40 pm – Mercury Retrograde (until July 9)

A planet is described as retrograde when it appears to be moving backwards through the zodiac. On June 15, Mercury, the cosmic magician, turns retrograde in Cancer, the sign of the Crab, sending communications, travel, appointments, mail and the www into a general snarlup! This awkward period begins a few days before the actual turning point (as Mercury slows) and lasts for three weeks or so, until July 9th, when the Winged Messenger reaches his direct station. At this time he halts and begins his return to direct motion through the zodiac.

The Mercury retrograde in June/July 2007 doesn't go back into the air sign preceding Cancer, it stays and hovers over the emotions of Cancer, which require that we address our true feelings. The intensity of June/July will demand that we face our emotions. That will be a necessary step in this transition process for the year of 2007.

In general, Mercury rules thinking and perception, processing and disseminating information and all means of communication, commerce, education and transportation. By extension, Mercury rules people who work in these areas, especially people who work with their minds or their wits: writers and orators, commentators and critics, gossips and spin doctors, teachers, travelers, tricksters and thieves.

Mercury retrograde gives rise to personal misunderstandings; flawed, disrupted, or delayed communications, negotiations and trade; glitches and breakdowns with phones, computers, cars, buses, and trains. And all of these problems usually arise because some crucial piece of information, or component, has gone astray, or awry.

It is therefore not wise to make important decisions while Mercury is retrograde, since it is very likely that these decisions will be clouded by misinformation, poor communication and careless thinking. Mercury is all about mental clarity and the power of the mind, so when Mercury is retrograde, these intellectual characteristics tend to be less acute than usual, as the critical faculties are dimmed. Make sure you pay attention to the small print!

June 30th, 8:49 am – Full Moon

The June full moon is known as the Mead Moon.

The Full Moon is also known as an Esbat. An Esbat is a time for working magick and healing, for special worship, and to conduct Wiccan business. This is opposed to a Sabbat, which is a festive celebration of one of the eight Wiccan holidays.

A nice solitary activity on the Esbats is to take a deck of Tarot cards and separate them into the four suits and the Major Arcana, then place each of the piles at their respective points on the circle or altar (Pentacles for north, Wands for east, Swords for south, Cups for west, with the Major in the center). Then ask each element and the God and Goddess to reveal to you, through picking a card, one bit of advice you should heed between now and the next month's Moon. Write these down and interpret them later or interpret them immediately, but try to keep a record so that you can properly heed the advice.

Stone of the Month

Amethyst – Cool and relaxing, amethyst is a stone of psychic power. Wearing it helps promote meditation, peace, tranquility and oneness with your spiritual goals. It enhances and strengthens the powers of the bearer and helps attune with the higher self, dispelling fears, heightening intuition and helping to embrace your own intuitive wisdom. Amethyst enhances mental and emotional stability. It relieves depression and can help conquer unwanted habits and addictions, particularly alcoholism. It relieves stress and diseases associated with overindulgence such as gout. Amethyst is associated with the Crown and Third Eye chakras, and the astrological sign Pisces. Amethyst is a powerful protective stone and it guards against psychic attack.

Rune of the Month

F Fehu (F: Domestic cattle, wealth.) Possessions won or earned, earned income, luck. Abundance, financial strength in the present or near future. Sign of hope and plenty, success and happiness. Social success. Energy, foresight, fertility, creation/destruction (becoming). Fehu Reversed or Merkstave: Loss of personal property, esteem, or something that you put in effort to keep. It indicates some sort of failure. Greed, burnout, atrophy, discord. Cowardice, stupidity, dullness, poverty, slavery, bondage.

Tarot Card of the Month

King of Pentacles – This king exudes all manners of wealth. His scepter shows his dominion over all. His robe is embroidered with grapes and vines. His castle lies in the distance. The focus is on expansion, media, arts, communication, contacts with those in power or authority, and finishing old projects while starting new ones. As with all Court cards, it is also possible for a King to represent a person. The astrological sign for the King of Pentacles is Gemini. This could indicate a banker, or captain of industry – a solid, steady man with great financial gifts. Other adjectives to describe this person might be: versatile, energetic, capable, alert, enterprising, curious, communicative, and diversified. This King may represent the vocations of: motion pictures, directing, lecturing, fashion, arts, radio, dealing with the public, and having two or more jobs at a time.

Spell of the Month

To Obtain Money

Done During the Full Moon

Fill your cauldron half full of water and drop a silver coin into it. Position the cauldron so that the light from the moon shines into the water. Gently sweep your hands just above the surface, symbolically gathering the Moon's silver.

While doing this say...

Lovely Lady of the Moon, bring to me your wealth right soon. Fill my hands with silver and gold. All you give, my purse can hold.

Repeat this three times. When finished, pour the water upon the earth.
