Important November Dates

(All times are CST)

November 2 - Daylight Savings Time Ends

Remember to set your clocks back one hour.

November 5 - Election Day

Democracy is the only system that persists in asking the powers that be whether they are the powers that ought to be.

~ Sydney J. Harris

November 6, 4:23 pm - Full Moon

Frost Moon

As part of this ritual, take a walk in the November night. Leaves crunch underfoot, grass is sequined with frost, and bare trees look like ebony brushstrokes against the sky. Above this world is the crown jewel, the Frost Moon. Silver, distant and serene, she represents the unseen realm and intuition. The guardian of the mysteries, she is all knowing, but reveals little.

We should look inside ourselves to find the answers we are seeking to improve our lives. During your Frost Moon ritual, develop your psychic powers. Light a silver candle. In your ritual space, place the divining tools you like to use, such as the tarot, pendulum, cauldron or magic mirror. Or you may scry into the flame of the candle you've just lit. To help connect with the Unseen Realm, speak this charm:

*Nature lies barren, the Earth begins to sleep,
Bless me Frost Moon, share the secrets you keep.
Share with me the divine gifts of prophecy,
By card, mirror, smoke and fire, let me "see."*

November 22, 6:32 am - New Moon

The new moon is a magical time of beginnings, when you can recharge goals, or set new ones. New moon rituals bring meaning to our lives by "charging" an intention with power. We're always setting intentions, and this is a way to do it in a more conscious way. There is power in coming up with goals for your life, and keeping them in your sights as they come into being. But even as you fully commit to those visions, stay flexible, since new doors may open that you didn't expect. At the new Moon, goals and wishes take form. As you reach out for spiritual wisdom, draw on unseen allies and open the door to magickal change. You might get what you ask for, or something even better that you can't imagine yet.

It's important to come up with a ritual that has meaning for you, instead of trying to follow any set guidelines (unless you're part of an established ritual group). You're the one that knows your personal story best, and what to lift out of that narrative is what will infuse your ritual with power. Here are some general guidelines to shape your rituals using the unique symbols and totems from your life.

Gathering your Sacred Supplies - Your altar is where you collect your sacred objects, pictures, found objects and the like. Using herbs with healing or symbolic properties adds to your ritual. Stones and crystals are another powerful ally. Candles are magickal, and in their form contains all four of the elements. A small journal on hand allows you to keep a record of your intentions.

Preparing for the Ritual - This is the most important part of ritual, since your commitment is the key. Take a ritual bath with sea salt to clear your field of any negative energies. Sage is an herb used by the Native Americans to clear a space, and make it sacred for ritual. It's easiest to use in a wand form. Light the end and blow on it until there is a smoldering glow. Use it around your own body, and in the space of your ritual. Clear your mind with meditation, using music or just quieting down in your cleared, sacred area.

Grounding - This is something that's important anytime for staying connected to earth energy. Signs that you're not grounded are mania, nervousness, racing thoughts, etc. Too often, we forget to feel the Earth under our feet. Visualize the roots of a tree going down into the Earth, through the layers, into the core, and then draw that energy back up through your feet again. Let it move through each chakra, then come out of the top and down around you. Try this or another variation of grounding before you set New Moon intentions.

Your New Moon Wishes - After you've cleared a sacred space and settled your energy, you're ready to set your intentions. Make a list of what you'd like to draw into your life. The New Moon is a moment to conjure what seems out of reach, and creating the vision is the first step to making it a reality. These are not just words on paper. As you write them down as intentions, you are committing to doing your part to make them real. Some call it co-creating, since you're opening to universal energies to set dreams in motion.

November 27 - Thanksgiving

The year has turned its circle,
The seasons come and go.
The harvest all is gathered in
And chilly north winds blow.
Orchards have shared their treasures,
The fields, their yellow grain,
So open wide the doorway
Thanksgiving comes again!

Stone of the Month

Fire Agate - Fire agate is a stone of courage, protection, and strength. Mystical lore says that it relieves fears, halts gossip and even reflects any threat of harm back to the source. Fire agate can help with spiritual advancement and progression. It promotes and enhances energy, including meditation, ritual, and spiritual healing energies. It also balances masculine (active) and feminine (receptive) energies. It is also said that it can take the edge off the emotional charge of problems. Fire agate is often used in spells to increase skills in communication in writing and speaking. It can also heighten creative visualization. It can be used for amplifying psychic talents. It has been used by shamans for stimulating clairvoyance and in order to evoke images and memories of other lives. In healing, it is considered to increase the natural talents and abilities of healing. Metaphysical healing lore professes that fire agate assists with healing of the circulatory system, lymph system, intestines. Fire agate is associated primarily with the sacral and root chakras.

Rune of the Month

Wunjo (W or V: Joy.) – Joy, comfort, pleasure. Fellowship, harmony, prosperity. Ecstasy, glory, spiritual reward, but also the possibility of going "over the top". If restrained, the meaning is general success and recognition of worth. Wunjo Reversed or Merkstave: Stultification, sorrow, strife, alienation. Delirium, intoxication, possession by higher forces, impractical enthusiasm. Raging frenzy, berzerker.

Tarot Card of the Month

Justice - With Libra as its ruling sign, Justice is about cold, objective balance through reason or natural force. This is the card that tells the querent that excesses have consequences. Indulging in drinking and drugs will affect his or her health, just as excessive exercise can damage muscles and joints, and working too much can make one neglect family and friends.

Justice urges the querent to make adjustments to do whatever is necessary to bring things back into balance physically, emotionally, socially and spiritually. In a more mundane sense, this card may signal a court case, legal documents, and/or adjustments in a marriage or partnership. The outcome of all of these may not be exactly what the querent wants, but it will be what he or she needs. It will also be scrupulously fair. If the card is reversed, it can indicate bias, obstruction of the law, or legal complications.

Spell of the Month

Strength Ceremony

We all have times in our lives when things are hard and we don't have much faith in ourselves. I recommend doing this ritual whenever the feelings of doubt or fear start clouding your thoughts. This is a group ritual, but it is possible to modify it for a solitary practitioner.

Cast the circle and then go around the circle so everyone can say how they became strong.

"I became strong through facing my fears.
I became strong through my friends.
I became strong through my family.
I became strong through making mistakes.
I became strong through taking a stand.
I became strong through dreaming."

Chant and raise power. The above can be modified to be more personal.
